EDUCATORS IN SESSION HERE

Eastern Public Education Association Begins Annual Conference To-day.

DISCUSS MANUAL TRAINING

"Arts and Crafts" Will be Chief Theme Considered.

The general theme for consideration at the sessions of the Eastern Public Education Association, which begins its annual conference here to-day, will be "Arts and Crafts in City and County Schools."

The programme for the sessions of the conference is as follows:

TO-DAY.

FRIDAY.

10 A. M.—Chancellor Hill, of the University of Georgia, will speak on "Rural Schools and Their Needs in Manual Arts;" Captain Van der Vliet, of the Virginia, on "Manual Arts in Country Schools."

Clever Work Shown.

Exhibits of work have been lent by many schools, and may be seen from Tuesday to Friday in the rooms on the first floor of the Mechanics' Institute. Specimens of work will be sent by the following: The School of Applied Design, New York city; the public schools of Richmond; the St. Andrew's school, of Richmond; the Miller School of Virginia; the Hampton Institute; the Manhattan Trade School, of New York; the State Normal School, of Massachusetts, and others.

Among those who will attend the conference are Miss Gill, of Harvard College; Mrs. Elliott, of Baltimore; Mrs. Schuyler Van Rensselaer, of the New York Education Association; Mrs. Arthur Dodge, of New York city; Mrs. John Jay White, Jr., of New York city; Mrs. George Aldrich, of Massachusetts; Mr. Henry T. Bailey, of Boston; Mr. George Alden, of Worcester; and Mr. Milton P. Higgins, from Virginia there will be present many teachers from the Petersburg and Norfolk

BOARD TO HAVE UP ANNEXATION

A Battle Royal Is Expected Over Matter To-night.

BOTH SIDES VERY ACTIVE

Have Canvassed Members With Great Industry.

The Board of Aldermen will to-night at its regular session take up the matter of annexation again, and there promises to be a battle royal between the compromise plan reported by the Ordinance Committee, and that offered by Captain Morgan R. Mills and adopted by the lower branch. The forces have been lining up on either side for the past few days, and the leaders have been doing a great deal of work. Scores of citizens will likely attend to-night's meeting, and some will take one side and some the other in trying to convince the members of what they should do.

Alderman John B. Minor, who, with Mr. John J. Lynch, framed the committee measure, will, in conjunction with Alderman Dabney, lead the fight for its adoption, while President Turpin and Alderman A. Belne Blair will speak for the Mills plan. Great activity was displayed by the friends of both measures yesterday, and last night the subject was freely discussed in the hotel lobbies and at the City Hall.

Compromise Measure.

The committee plan practically doubles the area of the city and brings in about 20,000 additional population. It also takes in property on the northside

The committee having the affair in hand represents members of the various conclaves, with John Krausse, as chairman; Melvin Flagenheimer, secretary, and John Lyneman, treasurer.

GOING TO CHASE CITY.

Governor to Recupate at the Mecklenburg Hotel.

Governor Montague is rapidly improving, and was able to sit up for a while in his room yesterday.

The Governor is still quite weak, but is regaining his strength by degrees. If he is strong enough to-day to travel, which is quite likely, he will leave for the Mecklenburg Hotel, Chase City, Va., where he will spend the remainder of the week recuperating.

The Governor had an engagement to speak at Louisa Courthouse yesterday, and one to address the folks at their unveiling exercises this afternoon. He was forced to cancel both of these, as well as one to make an educational address in Greene county.

If the Governor shall improve at the Mecklenburg as he hopes to do, he will return here next Monday and resume his official duties. As soon as he is strong enough the Governor will arrange to make a speech in Richmond in answer to the recent one here by Senator Martin.

JUSTICE JOHN HOLDS ALLEGED FUGITIVE

Man Claims He Was Short in His Accounts at Woonsocket.

Justice John's usual Monday morning docket of small assaults and drunks, with a few other cases of little interest, consumed much time yesterday.

Walter E. Gray, a young man, claiming Woonsocket, R. I., as his home, was held, at his own request, as a fugitive from that place. The young man went into the First Station Sunday and told Sergeant Bailey that he was an insurance man and that he had run short in his accounts at home. He said he represented several companies, and thought he was "shy" about $500, and that he had

PASTOR STONE PRAISES GEN. LEE

Southern Soldier Added Lustre to His Name and State.

SERVICE BETTER THAN BLOOD

Lee Had Good Blood, But He Did Not Rest on That.

At the Immanuel Baptist Church on Sunday, the pastor, Rev. E. W. Stone, introduced his morning sermon on "Christ Glorified in His People," by an allusion to the passing of General Lee. He said: "Last Thursday we placed to rest in beautiful Hollywood all that was mortal of a distinguished soldier and statesman. He bore a name that has been almost canonized in Virginia, a name revered and loved for beyond her borders, a name that has gone out with all the nations of the earth, a name that men of every clime and tongue delight to honor, a name that will not die so long as men love lofty minds, courageous souls and chivalrous deeds, a name that has added distinction to Virginia and glory to the nation; a name that has become an imperishable legacy to the whole human race."

General Fitzhugh Lee was by no means the most distinguished of his line, but he was a most worthy representative of it. He did much to enshrine the name he bore in the hearts of his countrymen both within and without this dear old Commonwealth. He conscientiously and bravely served his country both in war and in peace. Most unselfishly he did his duty to his State and nation, as God gave him light to see it. Grace.

Baptist Church of this city, reached here a few days ago and on Sunday morning met his new flock for the first time.

A very large congregation greeted the new pastor and gave him a most cordial and enthusiastic welcome to his new field. Mr. King preached again at night and again had a large congregation.

FIFTY YEARS OLD.

Pine Street Baptist Church Celebrates Anniversary.

The congregation of the Pine Street Baptist Church on Sunday morning celebrated in a brief and informal way the fiftieth anniversary of the organization of their church.

The service was the usual Sunday morning worship, at the close of which the pastor called attention to the age of the church. It having been organized May 6, 1855, with sixty-nine members, only five of whom are now living, and only two of whom were present Sunday morning.

Those living are Mrs. Harriet Cousins, Mrs. Miranda Mallory, Benjamin Powers and Mr. and Mrs. John Harfoot. The two last named were present, the others being detained by age and infirmities. Mr. and Mrs. Harfoot were invited to the pulpit by the pastor, and at they stood on the rostrum by his side the whole congregation came forward and gave them a hearty handshake.

The membership of the church is now

NEWS GATHERED FROM SOUTHSIDE

Police Commissioners Meet To-night in Important Session.

IMPROVING THE COURTHOUSE

City Assembly to Get Together in Regular Session Friday Night.

Manchester Bureau, Times-Dispatch, No. 1102 Hull Street.

The Police Board will meet at 8 o'clock to-night, at which time the differences alleged to exist between Chief Lipscomb and Sergeant Wright will be discussed and settled. This meeting of the Board will be especially important.

Recently Sergeant Wright obeyed an order of the Mayor instead of the Chief of police, and the chief has preferred charges against him.

The City Assembly will meet in regular session on Friday night. There will be lots of routine business to be transacted.

Pushing the Work.

The Lands and Buildings Committee has started the work of improving the Courthouse and the grounds adjoining. The interior walls of the Courthouse will be whitewashed and the basement and the John Washington, colored, was arrested on a warrant sworn out by Charles Bowen, before Squire Cheatham, charging him with trespassing on his premises and carrying away a dog, which came to his place astray. The case will be heard by Squire Cheatham at his court room in Oak Grove next Friday.

Officers Chosen.

At the organization of the Carpenters' union at Toney's Hall, officers of the term were chosen as follows: President, J. E. Andrews; Treasurer, E. D. Haight; Recording Secretary, J. A. Stringer. Another meeting will be held next Saturday night.

District Deputy C. H. Banks, of the Elks, of Norfolk, was a visitor at the meeting of Manchester Lodge last night. He spoke to the members, and congratulated them upon having such a fine membership.

The eligible voters in Manchester for the coming election will not run over 500 in Manchester District, including Swansboro, Oak Grove and Pulliam's, the registration will not reach 400.

Joe Johnston (Camp) will meet at Oakwood to-morrow at 4:30 o'clock to attend the memorial services.

Personals and Briefs.

Miss Susie Harris is visiting friends in Flinnywood.

Mr. E. S. Rives and Squire J. H. Robertson had a personal encounter here at the residence of the former yesterday morning. The affair was rather tame and neither man was hurt. The "encounter" arose over a discussion about a financial matter.

Captain Tomlinson and Sergeant Wiltshire yesterday morning arrested J. E. Brown in Manchester on the charge of stealing lead from the Eagle Paper Company. He was conveyed to Richmond and locked up at the First Station.

Dr. Cecil on the Soul.

Rev. Dr. Russell Cecil, the pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church, spoke at the Young Men's Christian Association meeting Sunday afternoon, and took the occasion to expound the doctrine recently enunciated by Coroner Taylor before the medical students.

Preaching from a passage in Job—"A man die, shall he live again?"—the doctor contended that "there is every evidence in man himself, in nature, philosophy and science to prove the satisfaction of millions of reasonable men that the soul does live after the death of the body. The question does not belong exclusively to science. The life of the soul is not demonstrable like a mathematical statement, but though science cannot prove its existence, neither can it disprove it, which it ought to do if it makes denial. The soul, the source of emotion and continuity is the universal and ceaseless stirring of it in the consciousness of mankind, and in the undying aspiration of all races, enlightened or not, towards the spiritual and the eternal."

A large congregation heard the impressive sermon.

Dr. Wilson at Asbury.

The Rev. Dr. R. T. Wilson, presiding elder of the West Richmond District, preached at the Asbury Place Methodist Church on Sunday at 11 o'clock, and united with the pastor in the administration of the Sacrament.

Revival services were held during the session of the Sabbath-school, which resulted in the conversion of eleven scholars. Services will continue through the week, beginning each night at 8:15 o'clock.

Holding a Revival.

Revival services to continue all of this week and next, at a popularly longer, were commenced in the Central Street Methodist Church last night. Rev. Dr. W. J. Young preached the first sermon, and the service will be followed during the week by Rev. W. A. Cooper to-morrow night, Rev. J. A. Thomas Wednesday night, Rev. A. T. Boutwell Thursday night and Rev. R. M. Chandler Friday night.

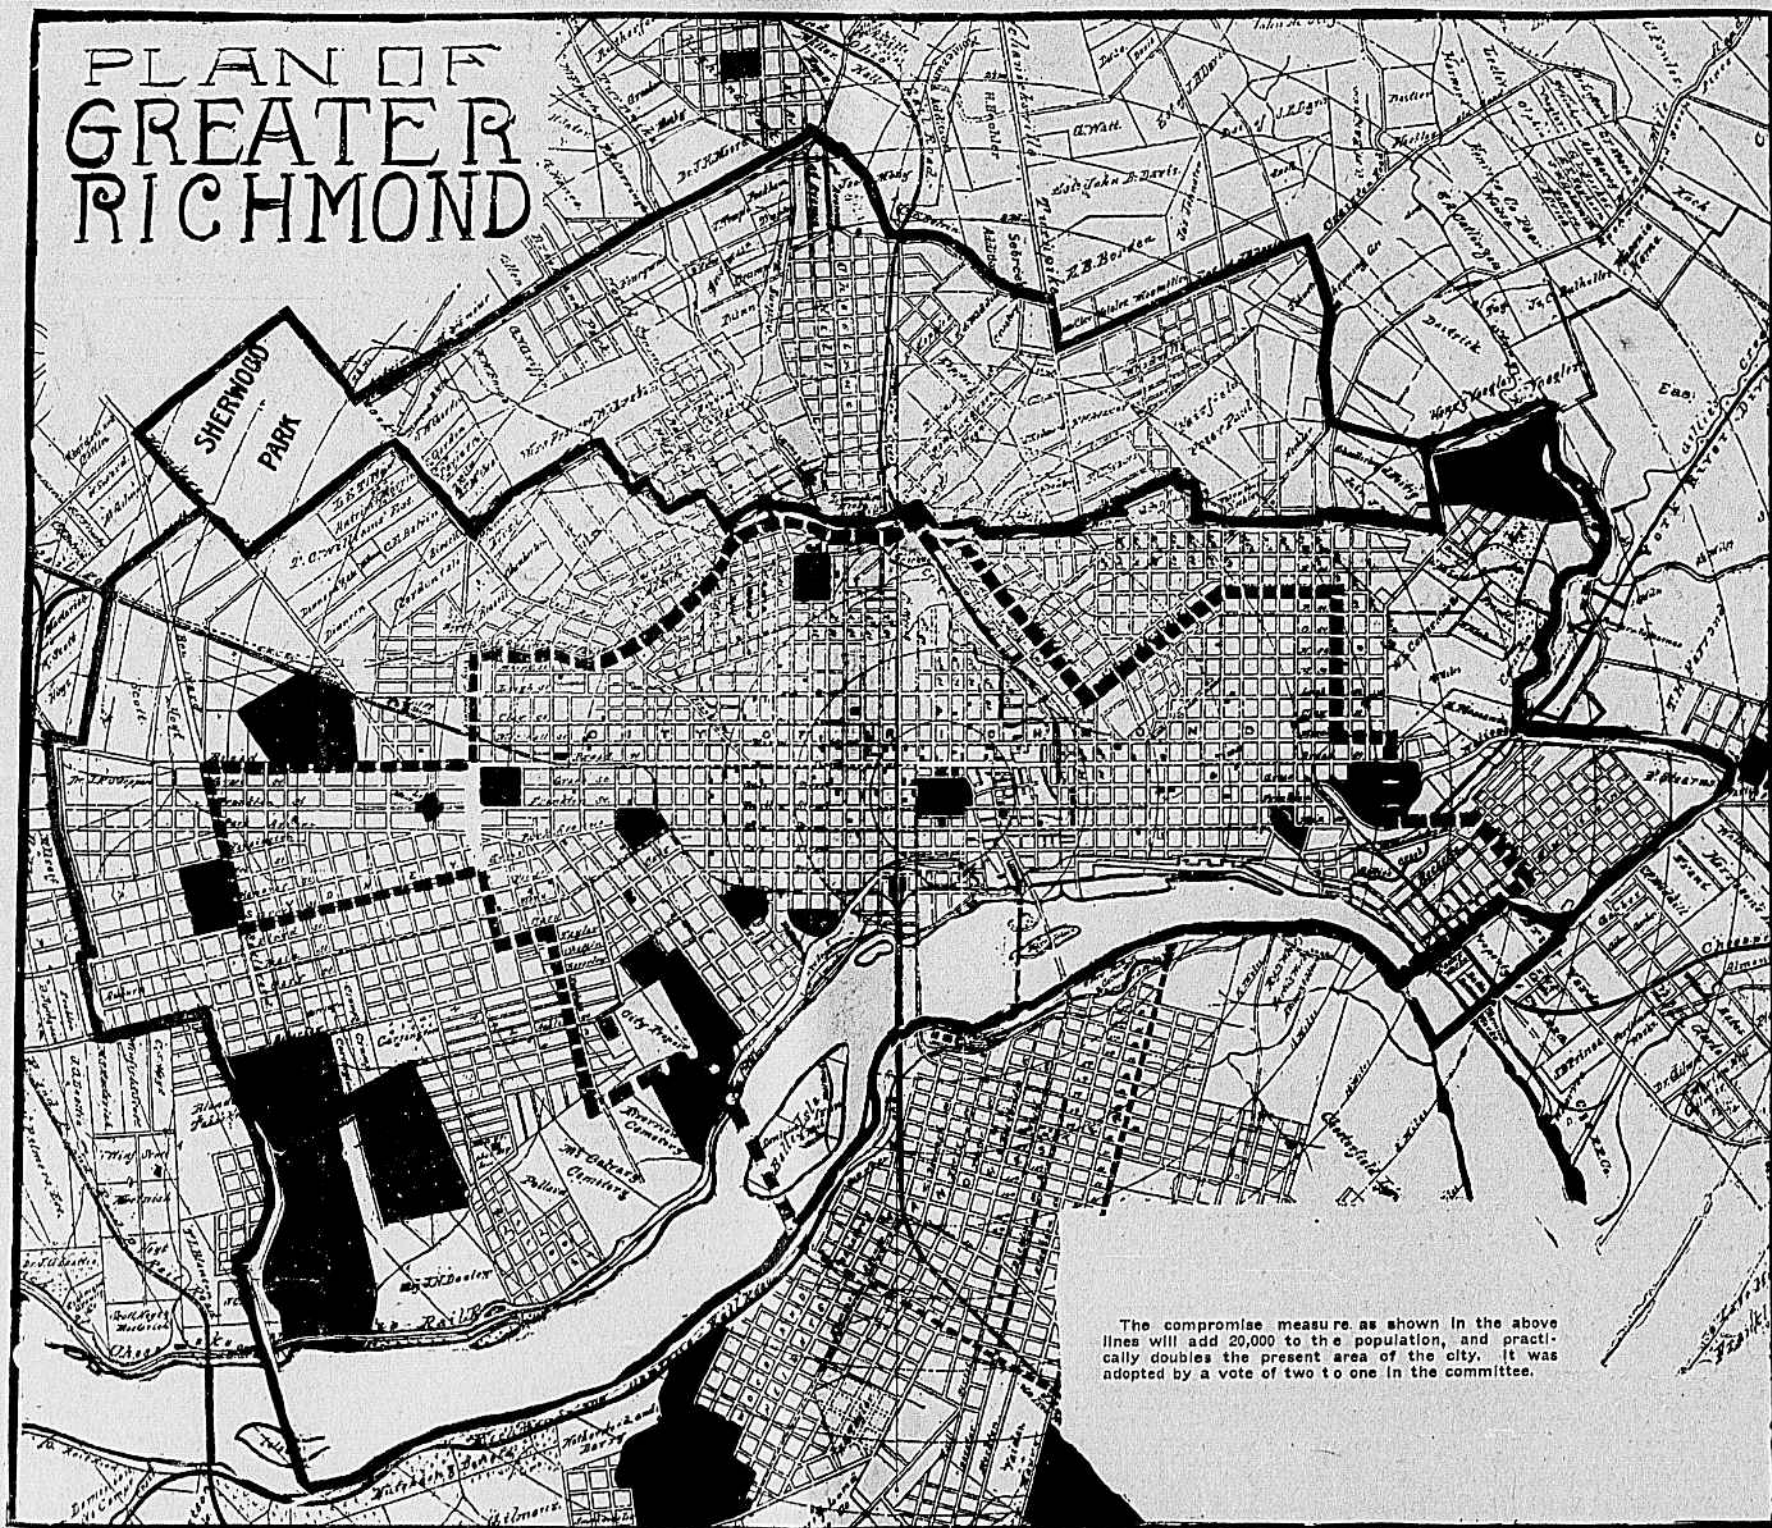

The services this week are in the nature of preparation for greater blessings hoped for as the meeting progresses.

Colyar Is Preaching.

A letter received here states that A. B. Colyar, the man recently released from the penitentiary, where he served a term for passing a bogus check on the Jefferson Hotel management, has reformed and is now a preacher.

Colyar has, according to the letter, straightened up, was married, and is conducting a most successful revival in Curriersville, Ga. He is residing in Memphis, Tenn.

Colyar was a man of fine education and family, and he pleaded his own case in the Hustings Court.

of the public schools in order that they may attend the exhibition that day at the Mechanics' Institute.

On Thursday the colored teachers will have a half holiday in which to see the exhibition, and on that day, from 12 to 5, the exhibition will be open for the colored teachers only and such other colored persons as may wish to attend.

During the sessions of the conference, whether held at the institute or at the Y. M. C. A., the gallery will be reserved for colored teachers.

An interesting feature of the exhibit will be various drawings submitted by architects in the contest for the new Richmond High School building.

Dr. Stiff Named.

Dr. J. W. Stiff, of Fredericksburg, has been named by Governor Montague as a member of the State Board of Dental Examiners to succeed Dr. R. L. Simpson, resigned.

Negro Acquitted.

In the Hustings Court yesterday Paul Brown, a negro, was acquitted of the charge of malicious assault.

"Stoney" Wright Out.

"Stoney" Wright, one of the attaches at the City Hall and a leading member of the Clay Ward Activists, has announced his intention of running for the office of justice of the peace from his ward.

which will afford ample room for manufacturing sites.

It is in accord with the views of those who have all along contended for a liberal policy of annexation, though it is not all they would have desired in the first instance. The vote by which the plan was adopted in the committee was, yeas, 6; noes, 3.

The negative votes were cast by Messrs. Blair, Dickerson and Bottom. Mr. M. Phil Seay has been counted upon as an advocate of the Mills plan, though he has been ill for some time.

It was stated last night that arrangements had been made to have him brought to the City Hall in a carriage to-night. It is barely possible that the annexation matter may go over until a special meeting of the Board, though this is not likely.

The calendar is crowded with other business, and either this or annexation would be sufficient to hold the body until midnight. If the committee measure shall fail the Mills plan, which has already passed the Common Council, will likely be adopted.

Heptasophs to Celebrate.

The Heptasophs of Richmond and Manchester are making elaborate arrangements for the celebration of "Heptasophs Day," which will be held on August 24, at one of the seaside resorts. The local conclaves will have as their guests delegations from all the State conclaves.

grown tired being a fugitive, and wanted to go back. He claimed that he was a married man and had borne a good reputation, and wanted to go back to face the charge. The man was locked up. He was hungry and penniless, and the Sergeant sent out and got him a good meal.

The police of Woonsocket were written to and the prisoner will be held for ten days.

The case of a negro named Alonzo Stanard was continued to the 15th, for further information. He is charged with taking a suit of clothes left with the Richmond Dressing Club by a customer.

A young man named John Chandler was held to the 15th on two charges of theft, one that of a ring belonging to C. O. Wood, and the other a pocket from Marie Blackburn. The case will be further inquired into.

Secure Uniform Laws.

Following are the members of the Virginia Commission to promote the uniformity of legislation, named by the Governor yesterday, to represent the State of Virginia for one year: R. T. Barton, Winchester; A. A. Phlegure, of Christiansburg; and John Garland Kollar, of this city.

fully he accepted arbitrament of war and faithfully devoted all his energies to bridging the chasm it rent between North and South. None ever fought fairer or fiercer in war than he, none ever strove more earnestly and persistently in the cause of peace. It was thus he honored the name borne by the State he loved, the nation he cherished. Good blood flowed in his veins, but not one whit better than that of many another Virginia family that in its day lived a life of splendid luxury, of selfish ease and even now has all but perished from the recollection of the very neighborhood which witnessed its elegance and feudal spirit. Blood is good but service is better. By his services to his State, his nation and to mankind, General Lee gave fresh lustre to the name he bore and added new glory to the country he loved. A white-haired Confederate veteran from a sister Southern State wept like a child as he gazed upon the features of his fallen chieftain. General Lee had more than the admiration and honor of his countrymen. He had their undying love as well.

There were fine congregations at Immanuel on Sunday. Four members were received in the morning, five persons were baptized and at night there was one conversion.

1,630. Rev. J. B. Hutson has been the pastor for the past thirty-three years.

Other ministers who have filled the Pine Street pulpit as pastors were Rev. Mr. Volckius, Rev. Mr. Purdy, Rev. Mr. McCarty, Rev. Dr. A. E. Dickerson and Rev. John M. Butler.

MEMORIAL SERMON.

Tribute to Confederate Soldiers.

General Fitzhugh Lee.

The annual sermon before the Oakwood Memorial Association was preached in the Broadus Memorial Baptist Church Sunday night by the pastor, Rev. C. P. Stiles.

The ladies of the Memorial Association, with representatives from other Confederate organizations and a number of veterans met in the lecture room of the church and marched in a body to the main auditorium where seats had been reserved for them. The auditorium had been beautifully decorated with flowers for the occasion and a congregation that taxed the capacity of the building awaited the services.

The minister's theme was duty well performed, and he paid a handsome and eloquent tribute to the Confederate soldier who fought for a cause and not for pay. He paid particularly beautiful tribute to General Fitzhugh Lee. The impressive service closed with the singing of "America."

Docket Is Called.

The Law and Equity Court was in session yesterday, and the docket for the term was called and cases set up to August 1st. The court will go on with the regular docket to-day.
